

Start A-Runnin', Men

By Charles Whaley

Once in the life of every man there comes a time when ... (gulp) let's face it, men, Sadie Hawkins day is just 15 days, 10 hours, 6 minutes, and 23 miserable seconds away.

Cain't you feel it sneakin' up on you kinda slow and secret-like? Ain't you noticed how the women on this here campus is beginnin' to act—all smug and contented like the wolves when the Wolf Gal's just tossed 'em a tasty hoo-min' bein'? Don't you know they've already begun to practise up on runnin' and chasin'?

Gals nowadays 'stead of chewin' the fat about clothes and new ways to twist their hair 'round their hoids brags mostly about how fast they can do the humbert yard dash and broad jumps and tree-climbin'. Which ain't confusin' (now that THE day is so close) or amusin' either.

Some females (no doubt upperclasswomen who didn't catch up wif their men in past races) has staked out claims for beartrap sites in Botanical Gardens. Available Jones, salesman in the Campus Book Emporium, reports that he has been swamped wif advance orders for rope, baling wire, blackjacks, and chloroform.

Anything goes startin' November 8th, the (groan) eve of Sadie Hawkins Day. All the (sob) festivities will end Saturday night wif the (sigh) big shindig that Keys and SuKy is puttin' on in the Student Union ballroom. Jist for that night, men, don't you think that Onnecessary Hall would be a proper and fittin' name for the place?

All (sob) that we can do is get in trainin', try to locate some good hidin'-places, and hope for the best. Meanwhile I'll look up the (ugh) offshul Sadie Hawkins Rules n' Regulations and have em writ here in next week's Kernel.

Cats Fly To Meet Bama Crimson Tide

Though Coach Paul has grinned,

"We'll have lots of fun on the trip." Kentucky followers know he has more in mind than a flight southward where his Wildcats try for their fifth win in six tries against Alabama's Southeastern and Rose Bowl champion in Montomery's Crampton Bowl Saturday. The team leaves in two chartered planes from Lexington airport at 9:30 this morning, the first time a UK football team has even been flown to a game.

Not only is the "Bear" the last fellow we know who would concede defeat, but he also would like to show Frank Thomas, Bama head man, a few things he has learned since wearing the Crimson himself over a decade ago, then assisting Thomas for four years. The Cats are to see an aerial show featuring the Tide's Harry Gilmer, but Bryant has a pigskin production of his own, billing Phil Cutchin, "Dopey" Phelps, "Wah-Wah" Jones and Wash Serini among others. In night appearances thus far, Mississippi, Cincinnati and Vassar have not found it too interesting from their viewpoint Georgia like it a bit better. The Blue players had learned their roles well by last Saturday when Vanderbilt attended in the only matinee to date.

21,000 To See Game

So Bryant and his boys, though definite underdogs, could do something more than provide 60 minutes of football for the 21,000 who will crowd Crampton Bowl. Long dominant in Southeastern play and vaning other league teams in all-time records, the Tide lost little prestige in bowing to Tennessee, 12-0, last Saturday. Catching them on the rebound, gives the Cats no advantage. Prior to the Vol clash, Bama had won close one against Tulane and South Carolina, had romped over Furman.

Two All-Americans, Gilmer at left half and Vaughn Mancha at center, will be in the starting lineup. On the team's 43-man roster are 30 lettermen, which indicates the depth of material. Twenty-two return from last season, when the Tide went undefeated in 10 tests, including the New Year's day conquest of Southern California in the Rose Bowl.

About 'Bama's Gilmer

Gilmer is one of the country's most publicized backs, and rightly so, for he had done most of 'Bama's passing, and kicking for three years. He has now added running to his repertoire. Against Tennessee last week he completed 16 of 37 heaves for 157 yards, handled the ball 59 times. Ted Cook, long noted for his defensive play at left end, caught four of these tosses. Cook was injured slightly, may not be ready Saturday. Johnny August, alternate fullback and Fred Grant, half, were also hurt, but should be available.

Injuries present less of a problem to Coach Bryant this week than formerly, as all 'Cats except Leo Yarusit and Jack Parris, possibly Len Preston, are in good shape. No Kentuckians were hurt against Vandy. There's been a minimum of rough work in practice this week to avoid any muscular trouble before meeting the Tide. Coach Bryant gave the boys a rest Monday, declaring that they deserved it by their hard work against Vandy and Georgia. Blocking, only weak point against the Commodores, has been emphasized, and precision in executing plays.

Remember 1922?

Saturday's clash will be the twenty fifth between Kentucky and Alabama, the Wildcats have won only once—7-0, in 1922—in that long series, tied the Tide 7-7 in 1939. In 13 years of Southeastern play Bama has won 55, lost 13 and tied six to top all league teams. Coach Thomas has an overall record of 91 wins, 17 losses and seven ties in the 'Capstone for the best collegiate mentor mark anywhere.

He has taken three teams to the Rose Bowl, one each to the Sugar, Cotton and Orange Bowls. Last year his boys ran over Kentucky, 60-19. Kentucky's plane trip should end about noon, giving the Cats time for a workout this afternoon. The entourage will return Sunday, arriving around noon. Over 600 tickets have been sold to Wildcat supporters who will go to Montgomery; for those unable to make the trip WHAS will carry a play-by-play, beginning at 1:45 CST. George Walsh, veteran sports-caster, will be at the mike.

Probable lineups:

Applications For Rhodes Scholarship Elections Due

Elections to Rhodes scholarships, suspended since 1939, will be resumed this year and applications are now being taken for the selection of one student who will be certified by the University of Kentucky, Dr. M. M. White, associate dean of the College of Arts and Sciences and UK selection committee chairman announced Thursday.

Traditionally recognized as one of the highest scholastic honors attainable, Rhodes scholarships were established by the will of Cecil John Rhodes, English administrator in South Africa in the form of a trust fund to be administered by a group of trustees.

Elections are normally made annually according to a fixed quota for a term of two years and the scholarships are tenable at the University of Oxford in England.

"There is no limit to the number of applications that qualified persons may submit," Dr. White explained, "but the University is allowed to certify only one applicant to the state selection committee to compete against other students for final selection to one of the 48 available scholarships allotted to this country.

"The University is only one part of the pattern. States of the Union are grouped into eight districts of six states each for the purpose of making these appointments. There is a competition every year in every state. In each there is a committee of selection which may nominate three candidates to appear before the district committee. Each district committee then selects from the 18 candidates so nominated not more than six men who will represent their states as Rhodes scholars at Oxford, according to

Community Chest Campaign Planned

Spagnuolo Heads Campus Drive

The Community Chest-USO drive on the campus will get under way next Friday with a dance in Bluegrass room of the Student Union building, according to Vincent Spagnuolo, UK chairman.

The campaign will be officially opened by an announcement in The Kernel and will run for a week—until The Kernel of November 8.

Charlie Mack and his orchestra will furnish music for the dance, scheduled to begin at 8 p.m., Spagnuolo said.

Jerry Eastman has been appointed executive secretary of the drive. Dorothy Tiltworth will serve as women's section leader, and Jim Crowley will lead the men's section.

Division leaders under Miss Tiltworth and Crowley are:

Martha Rich, residence halls; Anne Biggerstaff, town girls; Sue Warren, residence units; Gwen Petrey, commuters; and Angela Meisch, sororities.

James Welch, fraternities; Joel Ungelinger, veterans quarters; Harold Friedly, town boys; John Angelle, commuters; and Jack Fenton, residence halls.

Four committee chairmen already selected, Spagnuolo said are: Stuart Cohen, publicity; Harold Lind-say, dance; Ralph McCracken, special gifts; and Ben Street, speakers bureau.

An effort is being made to organize the entire campus for the drive, Spagnuolo stated.

Kyian Photos, Sales Continue

Photographing and advance sales for the Kentuckian, University yearbook, will continue through Friday, November 1, Tommy Gish, editor, announced today. No individual pictures or sales will be made after that date.

Pictures are being made in the sub-basement of McVey hall, in the Kernel offices. The office is open daily from 9:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. All freshmen and sophomores who are members of fraternities and sororities or other campus organizations using individual pictures on their pages in the yearbook must have one taken any day next week. No alphabetical schedule will be followed. Absolutely no pictures will be taken at the studios of the photographer.

Because of the shortages in paper and other supplies necessary in the production of a yearbook, only a very limited number of copies can be printed this year. Advance orders for those copies for freshmen, sophomores, and juniors are now being taken in the Kernel offices. No sales will be made through fraternities and sororities.

Most of the copies printed are being reserved for seniors, who receive their copy as part of the graduation fee charged by the University.

Juniors and seniors who have not had their pictures taken must come in during the next week.

Navy, Marine Airmen

Enlisted personnel who were formerly attached to aviation units of the Navy and Marine Air Corps now have the opportunity to supplement their present incomes, whether under the GI bill or hold, under a regular job, by attending two drill periods a month, in conjunction with a Navy Air reserve base, being formed in Louisville.

Former aircrewmembers and aviation ratings are eligible for flight time and flight pay and all are eligible for advancement in rating, longevity pay, and hospitalization.

Interested persons may write to Thomas R. Gregory, Box 2477, University Station, Lexington, Kentucky, for further information.

Texas Pickup

WBKY, the University non-commercial, educational FM station, has received a letter from Johnnie V. Meier of Dallas, Texas, stating that he listened to three programs from this station with good quality and reasonably good strength on the night of October 16.

This is considered remarkable since WBKY is at present operating on a power of 500 watts with a single-element antenna, situated approximately 100 feet above ground.

Sweater Swings Every Thursday

Informal "sweater swings" will be held every Thursday night, 6:15 to 8:15, in the Student Union Ballroom, announced Mrs. John Evans, Union social director.

The first dance, using a football theme, took place Thursday, October 24. Money for the orchestra, a Bob Beldt combo, was given by Mr. Howard Hall, Mrs. Evans said.

"Although orchestras will be obtained as often as possible, music will usually be furnished by public address system. There is no charge and everyone is invited."

Dance arrangements are made by the House Committee, of which Mary Lou Witherspoon is chairman.

National Secretary Speaks To ODK At Fall Banquet

Dr. Robert W. Bishop, dean of men at the University of Cincinnati, and national executive secretary of Omicron Delta Kappa, national men's leadership honorary, spoke Wednesday night at Nu circle of ODK's reunion banquet which was held at the Lafayette hotel.

The title of Dr. Bishop's address was, "The Role of ODK on the American college campus." Also on the program were Dr. Frank L. McVey, president emeritus of the University, who spoke of the early days of ODK on the campus, and Jim Crowley, an ODK active, who spoke of ODK functions during the war.

Dean M. M. White of the College of Arts and Sciences was toastmaster, and Ed Barnes was in charge of arrangements for the banquet.

Independent Dance

The Independent Party will entertain with a dance tonight at 7 o'clock for new members in the Card room of the SUB.

People from the audience will be chosen to do impromptu stunts. Edwina Abraham is the committee chairman in charge of recreation. Harold Southwood and Athena Yonkers are in charge of arrangements.

CAP Meeting

All University students who are members of the Civil Air Patrol are requested to attend a special meeting Monday at 8 p.m. in the City Hall. Plans for the coming CAP-Army Air Forces show will be discussed, and it is necessary for all CAP member to be present.

Masked Dance Sponsored By Veterans Club

A Halloween dance sponsored by the University Veterans' club will be held in the Bluegrass room of the Student Union building at eight o'clock, tomorrow night. Tickets for the event may be purchased in the lobby of the Union from 11 until 5 today in the office of the Veterans' club tomorrow, and at the door during the dance.

Music for the dance will be furnished by Charlie Mack and his 15-piece band, and admission is $1.50, stag or couple.

The dance is scheduled as an optional costume ball, but prizes of two white shirts and two pair of nylon hose will be awarded the best male and female costumes, respectively.

The dance is being directed by the club's social committee, headed by Vince Spagnuolo.

Ag. Festival Planned - First Since '42

Plans for the College of Agriculture's first fall festival since 1942 are now underway under the sponsorship of Block and Bridle. The "Ag College King and Queen," plus two attendants for the queen and two knights for the king, will be elected October 29, according to Jim Welch, Block and Bridle president, and their crowning will be a climax of the festival, which is set for the week-end of November 22 and 23.

The program for the festival includes showmanship, dairy and fat stock events, and educational exhibits by most departments of the college, as well as the home economics college. Stunts by Block and Bridle pledges, door prizes, and hog-calling, corn-husking, and horse-harnessing contests will be highlights of the show. One of the featured events, Welch announced, is to be a rodeo in which various professors will ride fat steers.

Livestock will be exhibited by the University judging team, composed of the five top men in the advanced livestock judging class. These men, all upperclassmen majoring in animal husbandry, are listed by Professor R. W. Pifer as follows: W. B. Cropper, Lexington; E. L. Karlick, Salt Lick; R. S. Koch, Cincinnati; C. M. Thompson, Stark; and Patch Woolfolk, Brandenburg. J. J. Scott of Brandenburg will serve as alternate. The team will compete with other college judging teams at the Kansas City Livestock Exposition Saturday, at the international show in Chicago, and in December at the "Heart of Dixie" hereford event in Memphis.

The festival is open to the general public. A small charge will be made, according to Dr. W. P. Garrigus, Block and Bridle sponsor, to support the livestock judging team.

Chemical Society Elects Officers

The student affiliate of the American Chemical Society elected the following officers at its last meeting: Mose Baston, Georgetown, president; Carolyn McMeekin, Lexington, vice president; and Tillie Walker, Lexington, secretary.

Student Bar Officers

Newly elected officers of the University Student Bar Association are: David Francis, president; Frank C. Spears, secretary; and Bunyan S. Henry, vice president; Wanda Lee Wilson, treasurer.

Robert Kuhlman

Kulman Sings In Musicales

Robert Kuhlman, baritone soloist on the University's music staff, will be featured on the second program of the Sunday Afternoon Musicales series in Memorial hall Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock, Dr. Alexander Capurso, head of the music department, announced yesterday.

The concert hours are open to the public without admission charge on Sundays throughout the fall and winter quarters. Dr. Capurso explained. A series of 14 programs has been arranged for presentation during the series, now in its 18th consecutive year. The next number on the series will be a recital by Marjorie Garrigue, pianist with the Cincinnati College of Music, on Sunday, Nov. 10.

Keys-SuKy Plans For Sadie Hawkins

John Crockett, president of Keys, sophomore, men's leadership fraternity, this week announced the appointment of six committees for the Sadie Hawkins dance, jointly sponsored this year by Keys and SuKy, University pep organization. The contest committee will be made up of Crockett and Betty Rhea Rhoads; the arrangements committee: Robert Puryear, Buddy Thurman, and Nancy Potts; the campus publicity committee: Charles Whaley, Joe Miller, Tillie Walker, and Bill Laslie.

The tickets committee: Betty Sue Scott, Frances Horlacher, John McLaughlin, and James Hodgetts; state publicity committee: Bill John Holman and Joe Miller; and the decorations committee, Frances Farmer, Nancy Potts, Bob Ingram, and Joe Mathews.

All committee members are requested to attend a meeting on Monday at 5 p.m. in room 206 of the Union building.

Guignol Season Opens November 18

"The Late George Apley" Is Play

Guignol, the University's little theatre, will open its one hundred fifty-first production November 18. The play is The Late George Apley, by George S. Kaufman and John Marquand. The director, Frank Fowler, returned this year from two years' work at Columbia University.

The cast of Apley is divided into two generations, the older three sets of husbands and wives, and the younger, their children and friends.

Cast in the older generation are veteran Guignol townspeople—Ed Mills, Dunster Pettit, Jane Ratchford, and one newcomer to the theatre, Dabney George.

The younger generation are all University students, and the men, all veterans.

The cast: George Apley, Ed Mills; Catherine Apley, Dunster Pettit; Roger Newcombe, Frank Johnson; Amelia Newcombe, Dabney George; Jane Willing, Jane Ratchford; Horatio Willing, James Snyder.

Eleanor Apley, Joan Rehm; John Apley, Jack Fenton; Agnes Willing, Marjorie VanArsdale; Howard Boulder, Douglas Hancock.

239 Students File For Absentee Ballots

University students eligible to vote in the coming congressional elections filled out a total of 239 applications for absentee ballots on Monday and Tuesday of this week.

A booth was set up in the Union building where those students who planned to be away from their home counties at election time could secure applications to mail to their home county clerks for absentee ballots. The program is co-sponsored by the Student Government Association, the University Veterans Club, and the campus League of Women Voters.

Student representatives of Democratic, Republican and Independent interests were present to offer any assistance the students needed, and there were three notary publics to notarize the applications.

Women Voter League Plans Mock Election

Tommy Carroll and Hogue Hockensmith will represent John V. Brown and John S. Cooper respectively at the League of Women Voters meeting Monday, 4 p.m. Music room. Each will give a fifteen minute pre-election speech and afterwards the floor will be open for discussion.

This meeting is in preparation for the "mock election" to be sponsored by the League, Thursday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., in the Student Union. The results of the poll will be tabulated and announced later.

UK Graduate New "Ole Miss" Chancellor

The second native Kentuckian graduate and former faculty member of the University within two weeks to be inaugurated as head of one of the nation's major educational institutions, Dr. John Davis Williams will be installed as chancellor of the University of Mississippi.

On October 1, Sarah Gibson Blanding, 1919 graduate and former dean of women at UK, became the sixth (first woman) president of Vassar college, Poughkeepsie, N.Y.

Dr. Herman L. Donovan, president of the University, will leave Wednesday for University of Mississippi, home of the institution known throughout the nation as "Ole Miss," to deliver one of the principal addresses at inauguration ceremonies Friday. The title of Dr. Donovan's address will be "Minor Statesmanship."

Born in Alexandria, Ky., December 25, 1902, Dr. Williams received his bachelor of arts degree from the University in 1926 and his master's degree from UK in 1930. Columbia university awarded him the doctor of education degree in 1940.

He began his teaching career in California, Ky., in 1923. From 1923 until 1925, he was principal of the Southgate, Ky., elementary school; was superintendent of Crab Orchard schools from 1926 to 1927; superintendent of Falmouth schools from 1928 to 1929; and principal of Danville high school from 1929 to 1934.

During 1934 and 1935, Dr. Williams was superintendent of Tennessee Valley Authority schools at Norris, Tenn. He returned to the University in 1935 as associate professor of education and director of the University Training school. In 1936, he became professor of education at UK in which position he served until he assumed duties as president of Marshall college, Huntington, W. Va., on August 1, 1942, succeeding Dr. James E. Allen.

As an undergraduate at UK, Dr. Williams specialized in economics and business administration, and graduate work toward his master's degree consisted chiefly of the study of political science and psychology. He received his doctorate from Columbia in educational administration.

In a statement at the time of his resignation from Marshall, Dr. Williams declared that the South indicated certain social and educational trends which he felt as a professional educator offered him "a distinct challenge."

Dr. Williams is married and has one daughter. He is a Mason, Rotarian, and a member of Phi Sigma Kappa social fraternity.

Unparalleled Pershing Rifle Company C Drill Team Starts On Comeback Trail

By Dick Stofer

"Fall In!" With this command, a small group of what was, in pre-war days, the best drill unit in the nation, began Wednesday the first drill period in three years for Company C, of the Pershing Rifles. These men, most of whom no longer have any connection with the Military department, met to plan the reactivation of the organization which meant so much to them before and during the war.

These former members, who, because of respect and love for the unit, will assist with the drill and instruction of Senior and Junior members of the ROTC Advanced course who are interested in the organization, but who do not as yet understand in full its purpose and great value to the individual.

Company C of the University of Kentucky has a paralleled record. Out of fourteen drill competitions, against such schools as Ohio State university, University of Indiana, University of Illinois, and Purdue, the Kentucky drill team has won thirteen. In the last ten meets C-1 was defeated only once, and then by Ohio State who placed second to Kentucky eight other times. It was at one of these meets at Ohio, that General John J. Pershing, in presenting Company C with the winner's trophy, called them the best drill team in the nation.

The Pershing Rifle Drill team is unique in many ways. It is one of the only types of group which devotes so many hours of practise to precision movements, the perfection of which is judged in only nine minutes of competitive drill. Another unusual factor is the rapid turnover of the personnel. Mem-

Not Boasting, But Marketing

"The Best Band in Dixie" will accompany the football team to Knoxville for the Tennessee game. Presumably the performance will equal the one which was given at the Homecoming celebration Saturday.

The Vanderbilt band came to Kentucky and was more than outplayed by the University band. Several students have complained that if Vandy could send a band like that to Kentucky, certainly Kentucky should be able to send its band on more trips. One trip is not enough.

Surely the athletic department or SuKy could afford to send the band to Marquette. A trip to Alabama is impossible now. But with all the money that must have been taken in during a record football season both from the ticket sales and from con-sessions sales, some must be available for such a trip.

The old cry of more school spirit again goes up. Perhaps the band is the answer. No team in the Southeastern conference could have better musical support than the Kentucky Wildcats have been given.

To those students who come to The Kernel office to have their pictures taken:

The spiral stairs leading from the sub-basement to the basement floor (that's where the post office is) have their own special code of usage. When coming down the stairs, the girl comes first, the boy second. When going up the stairs the boy goes first, the girl second. The reason is quite apparent to anyone who makes a mistake. Verbum sapientem.

Why Vote?

(Editor's Note: The picture of the pinheaded, pipe smoking collegiate nit-wit has gone out now; American collegians are awakening to a sense of political responsibility. Many more college people are voters than before. To all voters, and especially to the new voters, we present this article by Samuel Goldwyn's meal ticket.)

entirely on us and the way we vote. Voting is an American privilege, but it is a responsibility too. The man or woman who neglects to cast his ballot at election time implies that he is willing to forfeit his right to participate in his own government. When I hear someone criticizing an act of congress, or beefing about a man in public office, the first question I ask him is whether he voted in the last election. If the answer is no, I don't pay much attention to his arguments.

Citizenship, like charity, begins at home. Many people who vote for presidential electors are apt to ignore the elections in their own communities. Yet if we do not take an interest in our local political affairs we will never learn to participate in the larger affairs of our state and our nation.

The same thing is true of primary elections. A few votes in the primary often control the result of the election and political bosses, aware of this fact, do their best to control the primaries. That's why it's important that we show up at the polls on primary day to guarantee a free election later.

But a voter must be more than just willing. He must also be informed. Voting for men about whom one knows little or nothing, whose own political beliefs are but vaguely understood, is merely voting blind.

You can probably name the line-up on your favorite big-league ball team, or remember the theme songs of a dozen popular bands, but do you know who are your representatives in Congress or your state senators? And while we're on the subject, how many of these questions can you answer:

What is the Bill of Rights?

What are the three divisions of our government?

What is your congressional district?

What is the college of electors?

Maybe it sounds like a radio quiz program or an exam in civics. But these are only a handful of questions that any American citizen should be able to answer if he is really hep.

So make a point of finding out what makes your government tick. Follow the newspapers and news magazines and keep up with what's going on in Washington. Get to know the names of the men who are representing you in the government. It's your government, remember.

And then, when election time rolls around, you'll be ready to get out there and vote!

STRAIGHT TALK TO NEW VOTERS

By Danny Kaye

Pretty soon, you are going to vote. Three out of five of you will exercise this privilege. The other two, according to national statistics, will not. It is to this 40 per cent of the nation that I want to talk now.

Democracy is a word we have heard so often, used in so many ways, that we sometimes forget exactly what it means. Let's look it up in the dictionary. Here's what Webster says:

"de-mo-cra-cy, n. Government in which the supreme power is retained by the people and exercised . . . through a system of representation."

Yes, our government is just what Lincoln called it: a government of the people. But every time it is necessary to make a new law or establish a new policy it is impossible to ask 130,000,000 Americans for their opinions. So we do the next best thing. We elect people who will represent us, who will vote as much as possible as we would ourselves. These are our representatives in Congress and senators, governors, state legislators, and, at the top of the administrative ladder, the President himself. Who these people are depends

Dr. White.

Deadline for the submission of applications to the local committee is November 2. State committees of selection will meet on December 10 or 12 and district committees on December 14. Scholars-elect will enter the University of Oxford in October, 1947. Kentucky is limited under district group IV which also includes the states of Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, and Wisconsin. Secretary of the state committee is Prof. Charles W. Williams of the University of Louisville, while Dr. White serves as University chairman.

Normally, candidates for the Rhodes Scholarships must be between the ages of 19 and 25, but this year candidates who have been eligible in any year since 1939 will be allowed to compete, provided they have had at least one year of military or civilian war services. Dr. Frank Aydelotte, American Secretary for the Rhodes trustees, has announced.

For war service candidates, certain conditions of eligibility have been altered. Whereas regular candidates must be between 19 and 25 on October 1, 1947, war service candidates may be up to 32 years of age on that date. The usual ban against marriage is removed in the case of service candidates.

The customary requirement of two complete years of college or University training at the time of application has been dropped to one year for service men. Veterans attending Oxford will have the added aid of receiving benefits under the GI Bill equivalent to those which they would receive in an American university, the Veterans Administration has assured.

- About Anything -

By Corky Clarke and Jim Wood

One of the more popular professors in one of the humanities departments persistently has the uncontrollable urge to depress his students by reciting from the most morbid philosophies in literature.

We remember having a course under this professor last year when he suggested that Edgar Allen Poe could best be appreciated by reading from his selections at midnight in one of the local cemeteries.

This suggestion impressed itself in the minds of several students so strongly that in the latter part of this summer several of them journeyed to a cemetery in the dead of night and read from "The Fall of the House of Usher" and other Poe selections in the suggested manner.

Now this may appear to be a nice method of scaring the daylight out of one's self, but as is the law in most states—including Kentucky—to be caught in a cemetery after dusk is an offense and violators may be prosecuted. Fortunately, our students escaped without harm after following the professor's instructions to a capital "T"—J. W.

University Used As Radar Base

For those students who have been much intrigued by the peculiar mechanism atop the Biological Science building, the mystery is cleared. It is a radar antenna. What for?

The University of Kentucky has been chosen as the southern terminal for the carrying on of important radar experimentation. The Air Material Command, whose headquarters is at Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio, is further testing and examining the possibilities of a war-time development called short range navigation. Essentially and simply it is the most ultra-modern method of surveying and mapping. The trick is done by electric impulses aimed at a known reference or plumb point from fixed terminals. The reference point will be a B-29, carrying special instruments, flying between Lexington and Columbus, Ohio.

The possibilities of the perfected equipment are broad. First, topographic maps by radar will be practical possibilities, blindflying on parallel flight lines will be a reality, and accurate location of a plane in flight will be possible.

Even today the accuracy of some tests have been remarkable. For instance at a distance of more than 150 miles a plane was located with an error of a plus or minus 25 feet; and in the past 3 months lines have been measured and surveyed over a length of as high as 574 miles with and error compared to the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey's measurements of only 12 feet.

The University of Kentucky was chosen for several reasons. The facilities at hand and the location make it advantageous for those who are experimenting, and experiments will bring to UK equipment, men and information that would be otherwise unavailable.

Wright or Wrong

The editor demands that this column be in by Tuesday morning at the latest. That means I have to write it on Sunday afternoon because I don't have time on Monday. Now Sunday was the day after Saturday and Saturday was homecoming. So I'd advise you to slip across the page and read an editorial or something. Homecomings are nice, but I'm glad they only come once a year.

Last week I went to the show for the first time since I've been back in school. I hadn't been to a show for such a long time it proved to be a really entertaining experience. I was very attentive and took it all in—I even read the screen credits. You know, of course, that the screen credits are that fine list of names and titles that precedes every show. Supposedly, the screen credits give recognition to every person who had a part in the writing, designing, directing, filming, acting, etc., of the completed cinema. We movie fans can stand a lot but sometimes these very long lists of screen credits exhaust even our patience. Sometimes you wonder if the names are real, especially when you discover that one Dmitri Amfitheoff directed the musical background for the show. After that you're not excited when you read that John Cottonmille designed Miss Soandso's gowns. Yes, after that you can stand anything. Danny Kaye, in the musical comedy "Up In Arms," made the final, complete burlesque of movie screen credits. Some of you might remember it from the picture. His wife, Sylvia Fine, who writes most of his stuff, wrote the verses to the thing and the name of it is "Lobby Song." Danny, in telling the story of an imaginary movie, sings the song in split-second fashion, gradually increasing his tempo. Here's the way it goes:

Screenplay by Motz.
From a stageplay by Gluck.
From a story by Blip.
From a chapter by Ronk.
From a sentence by Dokes.
From a comma by Stokes.
From an idea by Grokes.
Based on Joe Miller's jokes.
Art direction, Finklepuff.
Interiors, Minerva Buff.
Photography, Alonzo Tek.
Recorded sound, Ozneedle Beck.
Upholstery by Zachary.
Knickknackery by Thackery.
Terpsichore by Dickery.
And Dickery by Dock.
That's how Kaye does it. And that's the last word.

Nurse: "You wish to see the student injured in the auto wreck last night?"
Coed: "Yes, it's only fair to give him the kiss he tried so hard to get."

Because there was such a large enrollment in school this quarter some of us still haven't been able to get athletic ticket books. Every week before a game I go over to the men's gym and they give me

Q. How long is a second?

A. Sometimes it's 3 1/2 YEARS

One second is not always one-sixtieth of a minute—not in telephone mathematics. Suppose, for example, you find a new method that clips just one second from the time it takes to process a toll ticket. Then apply that saving throughout the Bell System where some 115,000,000 toll tickets are handled a month. The time saved every thirty days equals 3 1/2 years!

Important? From seemingly minor changes or savings frequently come the major improvements which mean better working conditions for telephone men and women and better telephone service for everyone.

In this industry, even long established methods of operation are never considered beyond improvement. For men with ideas and ability, that viewpoint is a stimulating challenge.

Before going into the social activities planned by the sororities and fraternities for this week-end, let's back up and finish reporting the events of homecoming week-end.

Alpha Iota chapter of Zeta Beta Tau entertained with an informal dance last Saturday night in honor of alumni visitors and new pledges. Arrangements for the dance were handled by Morris Rozer, Walter Siegel, Alvin Miller, Joe Lowenthal and Sam Burmar.

The pledge class of Kappa Delta entertained with a pledge tea last Friday afternoon. After the game, the KD alums had a coffee for graduates and their friends. New C. Drury, housemother, and Bud Wilson and Jim Jackson, social chairmen. Chaperones were Mrs.

Alpha Delta Pi entertained activities, pledges and their dates with a coffee Sunday night at the chapter house.

Phi Deuteron chapter of Phi Sigma Kappa entertained last Saturday night with a dance in honor of new initiates and alumni visiting over homecoming weekend. The dance was preceded by a buffet supper. The Phi Sig Mothers club assisted with arrangements.

The Phi Sig Alumni association met Saturday morning in the chapter house and proceeded in a body to the game.

An informal dance in the Fireside room of the Phoenix hotel marked the official opening of the fall social season of Gamma Iota chapter of Sigma Nu fraternity, last Friday night.

Music was furnished by Charley Mack and his orchestra and arrangements were made by Mrs. W. C. Drury, housemother, and Bud Wilson and Jim Jackson, social chairmen. Chaperones were Mrs.

Drury and Mrs. W. Pettis.

Tonight, the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity will hold a party at Springhurst for all actives, pledges and dates.

Miss Annette Paulconer will entertain the Delta Zetas and their dates with a Halloween party to-night at her home in Winchester. The SAE's will entertain with a Halloween party at the chapter house.

A meeting of the Stray Greeks, an organization of unaffiliated fraternity men and women, met recently to organize and draw up a constitution. The following officers were elected: president, William F. Russell; vice-president, Elizabeth Lowry; and secretary-treasurer, Mary Edwards Miller. The fraternities represented in this organization were not mentioned in the notice turned in to The Kernel office.

The Deltas will entertain with a Halloween party tonight at their chapter house. Jay Brumfield is in charge of decorations.

Rogers, house manager; Mack Starnes, chaplain; Quentin Whitman, sgt. at arms; and Bower Wallace, steward—were introduced.

Dr. Donovan Dislikes Russian Government; Lauds Sportsmanship

I am not particularly fond of the Russian people and I dislike cordially their form of government. But I do admire certain characteristics I observed in them when I visited the Soviet Union ten years ago. They faced then, as we do now, an acute shortage of goods and services, far more acute than anything we have ever known in this country. There was not enough of anything to go around. They lined up to get meat, to ride on trains, to buy news papers, to purchase shoes; they were in queues for everything they had to obtain for existence. Those people in the rear of the lines were usually never served. However, never once did I observe any cutting of the line. There was no outward evidence of impatience, no ugly demonstration of disappointment. Apparently they understood the situation. There was a marked courtesy on the part of everyone whether he succeeded or failed to secure the goods or services he was seeking.

Sometimes I am told that there are individuals who fail to observe the kind of sportsmanship so greatly appreciated by everyone. They cut lines. They crowd ahead of those who have been standing for a long time. Such practice is irritating to those who have been waiting patiently. I trust every student in the University will be sportsmanlike in his conduct when it is necessary for lines to form for services. The line should form to the right and there should be no special privileges for anyone who has to wait to be served.

Art Faculty Members Attend Ohio Valley College Conference

Members of the Art department faculty, Professors C. R. Barnhart, E. W. Rannels, and Clifford Amyx, will attend the meeting of the Ohio Valley College Art Conference, Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio, Saturday, November 2. Professor Rannels will open the program with a discussion of the problems of integrating the arts and humanities in liberal arts colleges.

Charlie Mack Plays For Dorms' Formal

The annual fall Women's All-Residence halls formal will be given Saturday, November 2, in the Student Union building. Charlie Mack and his orchestra will play for the dance, which is from 9 to 12 p.m.

Ellen Ziglar and Jean Asbury are on the committee in charge of arrangements.

Phi Delt Pledges Elect Class Officers

Dean Jones Offers Suits To Students

Dean Jones has several good suits of clothes for free distribution to worthy students. The suits are for boys 5 ft. 8 in. in height and weighing around 135 pounds. The professional man who contributed the suits did not wear them out; he outgrew them. All boys interested in this offer should contact Dean Jones.

Dr. Cooper Speaks To First Postwar Ag College Assembly

Dr. Thomas P. Cooper, dean of the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, will be the principal speaker at the first postwar agriculture college assembly, to be held October 29 at 11:00 a.m. in Memorial hall. Miss Frances Horlacher, a junior in home economics, will sing a solo, accompanied by Miss Betty Sue Scott.

Following Dr. Cooper's address, the Alpha Zeta honorary fraternity, will hold pledging exercises.

James Welch, president of the Block and Bridge group, will outline plans for the fall festival, which is being revived this year. During the assembly period, students will nominate and elect the King, Queen, and attendants for the festival. Those elected must have a standing of one, and must not be on probation. Only the students present at the assembly will be permitted to vote.

Rannels Will Speak At Indiana University

Professor E. W. Rannels, professor in the Art department, will participate at the annual meeting of Midwest College Art Conference, Indiana university. He will talk during a panel discussion concerning fine arts for college freshmen.

Professor Rannels was former president of the Midwest College Art conference.

Kentucky is a conference member.

AGRs Elect

At the October 16 meeting of the Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity, three officers were elected to fill vacancies left by graduating students. Charles Gulley was elected social chairman, David Hatchett was elected intramural manager, and Ralph Speaks was elected reporter.

Happy Homecoming As 'Cats Top Vandy 10-7; First Victory For Old Grads In 20 Years

Kentucky alumni are back in their hometowns, talking about the Wildcats' first Homecoming win in 20 years. The 'Cats edged Vanderbilt's Commodores, 10-7, Saturday on Stoll field before 21,000—another record crowd—with Phil Cutchin figuring in all the point-making.

His toss to "Wah-Wah" ones for a touchdown on a "double-fake" in the third quarter was the first time Vandy's goal-line had been crossed this season. 'Twas his field goal later in the same period, however, which proved to be the margin of victory, as the Commodores scored in the last stanza. Even the extra point was tallied by the Murray left half.

The entire game was one of the best defensive contests ever staged on Stoll field. More times than the visitors probably care to remember, Vandy backs were thrown for losses by alert Kentucky linemen, and the Commodore line, on the other hand, need make no excuses for its showing. The Wildcats ran only seven series of plays during the first half, being forced to kick from deep in their own territory several times.

Twice before intermission the visitors advanced within Kentucky's 10-yard stripe, where goal-line stands turned them back. A blocked Kentucky punt on the 'Cat 11 did Coach "Red" Sanders' lads no good, thanks chiefly to "Wah" Serini. The veteran tackle broke through to down Vandy's "Binks" Bushmaier for a six-yard loss, after the Commodores had driven to the four.

The losers recovered Bill Boile's fumble on the Kentucky 15 midway of the last quarter, went across on four straight line bucks by J. P. Moore, who was the Commodores' chief ball-toter all afternoon. Bobby Berry converted.

"They were all good," says Coach Paul Bryant of Kentucky's gridders. He calls the play of Jones and Dick Hensley, ends; tackle work by Serini; backfield roles of Quarterbacks Harry Ulnski, Bill Blanda and Jerry Claiborne particularly outstanding. Cutchin's leadership and all-around game was a big factor in the win, Kentucky's fourth in five starts, according to the 'Cats' young mentor.

For Vandy, other than Moore, John North was outstanding via his tackling and general defensive performance. Bushmaier did none of the yard-gaining runs that marked his pre-war appearances against Kentucky, and scabbard "Squirrel" Simmons was in the game hardly at all.

The Wildcats committed fewer mistakes than in previous games, looked like real champions in the last quarter when they protected their small lead. Rather than try for more points on passes, the Blues resorted to time-consuming plays. Their scoring strategy provided a real thrill for returning alumni when Cutchin faked a "Statue of Liberty" to "Dopey" Phelps, then heaved to Jones in the end zone.

Still another joy to Kentucky followers is the fact that no injuries were received by Wildcat gridders. Phelps was in the lineup for the first time since the Cincinnati game, got away for two long runs. Bill Portwood, co-captain for the tilt with Bill Griffin, was not in uniform, is still recovering from a leg injury.

MUSING with Melton

For the second straight week members of Kentucky's coaching staff have personal reasons for wishing a Wildcat victory. Against Vanderbilt Joe Atkinson, line coach and 1941 Commodore captain, got the "punch line" for much future ribbing when the 'Cats triumphed, 10-7. "Bear" Bryant, head Blue maestro who assisted at Vandy before Navy service, was gladdened more then somewhat, too, in besting his ex-boss, "Red" Sanders.

This week no less than three Kentucky football fashioners will have "out to beat my alma-mater" and "let's hang one on the 'old man'" hopes when the Wildcats meet ever-powerful Alabama in Montgomery Saturday. Bryant, tackle coach Carney Laslie and backfield director Frank Moseley are all former 'Bama stars, Bryant and Laslie remaining as assistant coaches after graduation.

Moreover, Bill Moseley, 'Cat back, and Coach Moseley (no relation) are Montgomery natives, so Homecoming which has ended here will be extended for them. Frank's brother, Max, is sports-editor of the Montgomery Advertiser, and has said that he hopes to report a victory over his brother, but hopes it won't be too bad. Still another Moseley is listed on the 'Bama roster this year. He and "Herky" Moseley, Tide ball-toter of a few seasons back, are brothers, no kin to Bill or Frank, as they are of the "Arkansas Moseleys."

On the other hand, Lou Bostick, Crimson assistant, was an aide last year to Bernie Shively, UK athletic director now, but head football coach last fall. He returned to Tuscaloosa this spring, will no doubt prize a decision over his former associate.

Another assistant 'Bama mentor is "Dixie" Howell, who succeeded Coach Moseley as first-string quarterback for the Tide, after "Mose" graduated in 1933. "Dixie" had served as relief man for "Mose" during the previous season. Coach Bryant and Moseley played only one campaign together, as 1933 was the "Bear's" freshman year. Laslie, a tackle, and Moseley were teammates on the 1931 and 1932 elevens. That was in the era of "Sugar" Cain, one of Alabama's all-time great backs. On the other end from Bryant, incidentally, was Don Hutson, probably the best flankman ever on the gridiron and who later made headlines with the pro Green Bay Packers.

Upon graduation Laslie helped Thomas before going to VMI as an assistant. Bryant was named line coach after his 1935 graduation, stayed four years until Vandy beckoned. Moseley came to Kentucky immediately after his diploma days, had been backfield coach for eight years when he entered service. All three served as Naval officers during the war. Both Laslie and Moseley joined Bryant when he was made head coach at Maryland last year, were more than a small part in Maryland's most successful season in history. When the "Bear" accepted Kentucky's bid to lead it to bigger and better things, he brought them with him.

Two of the trio—Laslie and Bryant—realized football's greatest glory—participation in the Rose Bowl classic—while playing with the Red Elephants. Laslie's "dream game" came in 1931, when Alabama topped Washington State, 24-0. Bryant's turn was in 1935, when the Tide defeated Stanford, 29-13. Moseley laughingly says he was "just in between," since he was on the frosh eleven when the 1931 game was played, had been out of school a year when 'Bama got its next bid.

Since all of them performed under Frank Thomas, still director of Tide grid destiny, Saturday start means more than just another ball game. Bill Moseley will want to show the homefolks a bit of his know-how; Frank Moseley hopes to change that "Tide Tops 'Cats" headline that brother Max is contemplating for Sunday's "Advertiser."

Simultaneous Chess Matches Scheduled

The feature exhibit of next Tuesday night's meeting of "The UK Chess and Checkers Club" will be a simultaneous chess presentation by Professor Jose Puente of the Department of Romance Languages.

The organization's officers hope that 25 or more boards can be arranged for Professor Puente, who will play all boards at the same time. Players are requested to bring their own chess sets and boards.

Club Room Needed

President W. C. MacQuorn requests that all members continue their efforts to locate a regular club room for the organization. It should be a large room containing several long tables or desks on which players can spread their boards, he explained. Temporarily, the club will continue to meet on Tuesday nights at 7:30 in Miller hall with everyone welcome.

Proposed Chess League

W. B. Long, secretary-treasurer of the club, announced that the Universities of Kentucky, Louisville, and Depauw are forming an intercollegiate chess league with match play to begin later this month. Other colleges and universities have been invited to enter the league, Long added.

Culling Over, Rupp Divides Netters Into Two Sections

By Tom Diskin
Coach Adolph Rupp has divided his basketball squad into two sections, the "A" squad listing 19 players and the "B" team 23 candidates. Both squads will be cut to about 15 players each, possibly by late next month.

The Wildcat mentor emphasized offense in the practice sessions this week and Alex Groza, Jim Jordan, Jack Tingle, Ralph Beard, and Buddy Parker hit the hoop with consistency to show that they will be top candidates for the starting five.

On the "A" squad are Brannum, Groza, Demossey, Jordan, Line, Ferguson, McMullen, Campbell, Beard Barker, Tuell, Yessin, Barnstable, Tingle, Davis, Rollins, Parker, Holland and Cummins.

The "B" team includes McNaughton, Pannell, Weber, Crockett, Duncan, McCann, Holder, Gardner, Daniels Stevens, Day, Harder, Cowgill, Johnson, Lewis, L. Hammett,

On hand late last week to see how the Baron does it was Leopold Frank Dewper, basketball coach at the University of Ghent in Ghent, Belgium. Apparently Coach Dewper reasoned that anyone who could produce a team that wins 28 of 30 games and the national invitational tournament—Kentucky's record last year—must have something worth watching.

Dewper's career hardly follows the "college star turns coach" pattern, for he started teaching the cage sport to obtain his release from a Nazi prison. Last season his Ghent team won the European championship, so he and Adolph Rupp have something in common.

The Ghent court mentor was born in Belgium, of American parentage. He returned to Ghent in 1933 after finishing his education over here.

B. Hammett, Boiles, Coffee, Gordon, Hill, Townes and Francis.

This makes a total of 42 members on the two teams, as compared with the 71 candidates that reported to Coach Rupp a week ago.

Ten Men Initiated By Block And Bridle

Six Livestock Judging Team scholarships were awarded, and ten men were initiated into the Block and Bridle club at a banquet held Tuesday night in the Union building.

Scholarships were awarded to William B. Cropper, Lexington; Edsel L. Karrick, Salt Lick; Robert S. Koch, Hamilton, Ohio; James J. Scott, Lexington; Charles M. Thompson, Stark; and Patch G. Woolfolk, Brandenburg. These men make up the judging team which will represent UK's College of Agriculture at the International Livestock show to be held in Chicago November 30.

Those initiated into the club were Charles W. Crabtree, Bowen; William B. Cropper, Lexington; Wayne Easterling, Blair's Mill; T. Johnson Hill, Jr., Lebanon; Robert S. Koch, Hamilton, Ohio; Jack J. Scott, Lex-

Wildkittens Seek Revenge Against Miami Saturday

Kentucky's Bee-Cats, after their first defeat for this year, will seek revenge against the "B" squad of Miami U. when the two teams meet tomorrow afternoon on Stoll field for their second encounter of the season.

The Miami team handed the Wildcats a 2-0 setback last Friday night at Oxford, Ohio, when the Bees tried to make it two games within 48 hours. They had beaten Fort Knox Wednesday night on their home field, so the record reads two wins and one tie now.

Saturday's game is scheduled for 2 o'clock, and will furnish Lexington grid fans some exciting action while the varsity is in Alabama. A play-by-play of the Kentucky-Alabama game in Montgomery will be heard all during the "B" contest, as a radio will be set by the loud-speaker. Students will be admitted to the game on their student books.

Team Looking Good
Coach Bill McCubbin has said that the team looked good in workouts this week, and will be ready for the contest. Spirit seemed first-rate on the squad with every member anxious to make up for last week's 2-0 deficit.

With the varsity coaching staff all out of town, and McCubbin slated to be in East Lansing scouting Michigan State, the tutoring job may fall to the able Charlie Kuhn. Kuhn has been helping McCubbin with the duties of B squad coach, since he found that his foot would not heal satisfactorily for him to continue playing with the varsity.

ington; Clayton Ray Turner, Ellettsville; Charles M. Thompson, Stark; Patch G. Woolfolk, Brandenburg; and Associate Professor R. W. Pifer, UK, formerly of Purdue university, now coach of the judging team.

During the business session plans were made for the annual Block and Bridle Fall Festival on November 22 and 23.

SAE's Sig Eps, Sigma Chis Still Ahead In Football With Tourney Time Near

By O. C. Halyard

With just one week of round-robin play left in intramural football, the SAEs, Sigma Chis, and Sig Eps are still leading their respective divisions. The round-robin play will wind up next week, and the nine top teams will be seeded for the elimination tourney scheduled to get under way November 5.

The second round of play in the tennis singles and doubles will end tomorrow, while third round play in golf is already in progress. The semi-finals in the tennis doubles should be completed by Tuesday along with the semi-finals in the golf doubles. Finals in tennis will be played by November 1, while the finalists in the golf tourney have until November 6.

Third round play in the singles of both sports should be in by Tuesday. Semi-finals in net singles must be played by November 1. Results for the fourth round in the golf singles are due November 1, and semi-finals by November 6, with the finalists getting until November 8.

Intramural director Bill McCubbin stresses the importance of all players meeting the deadline date. "With the large program we still have planned for the fall quarter we can't afford to postpone play in these sports. He also added that the good weather could not be expected to last much longer.

Volleyball, Boxing, Wrestling
McCubbin announced that entries could now be filed for volleyball, boxing, and wrestling. The deadline date for all entries will be November 5. Play in the volleyball tournament will begin November 1.

Entrants for competition in boxing and wrestling will be given three weeks to condition and train. Thus the first bouts won't be scheduled until November 26. Facilities will be available for participants to work out in the gym, and each student entered in either sport will be required to work out at least twice a week for the three week period. This will enable him to get in fairly good condition before he sees action.

Volleyball was offered on last year's program, but this represents

Michigan State Alums To Meet At Phoenix At Game Reunion

Kentucky alumni of Michigan State college will hold a reunion on the weekend of the Spartan-Wildcat football clash on the University gridiron November 2, it was announced Monday.

Glen O. Stewart, MSC director of alumni relations, is notifying the college's alumni throughout Kentucky of a reception to be held in the Martha Washington room of the Phoenix hotel in Lexington Friday evening, November 1. Mr. Stewart and MSC President ohn A. Hannah will address the "get-together."

A registration table will be set up in the lobby of the hotel—team headquarters—on Saturday morning to sign up those alumni who are unable to make the pre-game rally Friday evening, Stewart announced.

Tennessee Tops SEC Grid Teams

Tennessee's Volunteers lead all other Southeastern conference teams this week with two wins and no losses. Georgia is undefeated, but has won only one loop start—against Kentucky. Kentucky is tied with Georgia Tech. Vanderbilt and Tulane for third place.

The 'Cats toppled Vanderbilt from the league lead by their Homecoming win. Alabama, almost always atop the eleven, and Louisiana State are tied for seventh place with a win and a loss. Both teams were favored to win their latest games—the Tide against Tennessee, the Tigers meeting Georgia Tech.

Florida still trails all others with no victories in three tries.
